

MONDAY, MAY 13, 1846.

FRENCH SPOILIATION CLAIMS.—We stated on Saturday week, that the Government of the United States had assumed these claims, in good faith, in a treaty with France, and were liable for them, to the respective claimants; and although our Government voluntarily made herself the debtor to her citizens, nearly half a century ago, she has not yet paid a single cent on those claims. Repeated efforts have been made in Congress, to pass acts for their liquidation, but, in many instances, they have been defeated. Twenty-five different bills have been presented to Congress, and the committees to whom they were referred, reported in favor of twenty-two of them, at different times. During the time the Hon. Rufus Choate, of Massachusetts, was in the Senate, a bill providing for the immediate payment of these claims, passed that body, through his instrumentality, but was defeated in the House of Representatives. And a similar bill is now before the Senate, on which no action has yet been had.

Many of the original evidences of these claims were sent to France, during revolutionary times, at an early period, and soon after the destruction of the property, by the French cruisers, and were lost. Others were deposited in the Treasury Department, and were consumed at the time that building was destroyed by fire. But many of them are yet in existence, and are held, either by the original sufferers, or by their heirs; and it is an act of justice which our Government owes these individuals, to pay these claims, without further delay. Most of the original claimants have long since passed to the repose of the grave, without their just dues; and some few are still living, as monuments of the great injustice of the United States; and are now making their last feeble, but eloquent call upon Congress, to pay them their just demands.

Can our Government longer refuse to be honorable, and will our Senators and Representatives appropriate and pay those honest debts, at the present session? By so doing, they will perform an act that will redound to their credit through all time; for they then will have discharged a part of their public duty in such a manner, as will meet the approval of their own consciences, and, at the same time, invoke the blessings of thousands who are needy, and in the decline of life.

AMERICAN TRACT SOCIETY.—This flourishing and highly important institution held its session at the Tabernacle last week. $153,000 have been raised the last year; of which $85,000 were for sale of books, tracts, &c. The donations are $8000 above those of last year.

73 new publications have been stereotyped, and 364,000 volumes printed. Total circulation, since the commencement of the society, near 3,000,000 volumes, and 81,000,000 of minor publications of all kinds.

Comment on these facts is unnecessary. It must be one of the most important, as it is one of the largest benevolent institutions on the face of the earth. Immense benefits has been effected by means of the Colportage system.

PRECAUTION.—We understand that Messrs. Grinnell, Minton & Co., of New York, have determined to arm their packet ship Henry Clay, for her next voyage to Liverpool.

MR. RICHARD L. OGDEN, sufferer in the U. S. Army, arrived here yesterday morning, direct from Point Isabel. He left there on the 28th of last month, went over to Aransas Bay, from thence to New Orleans, and took the regular mail route for the North. We learn from Mr. O. that there had been no communication between Point Isabel and Gen. Taylor's camp, for two days previous to his leaving. On the 26th he started to go to the camp, and when about four miles from Point Isabel, he met a Texian on horseback, who had been fired at, and who gave him the information that about two thousand Mexican troops had crossed the Rio Grande. Mr. O. was consequently compelled to return to Point Isabel. He also informs us that the position of our men at Point Isabel is perfectly secure, and that the place is well entrenched; and he is confident that it can be maintained and defended, should an attack be made. It is probable that a portion of the volunteers from Galveston and its vicinity, arrived there the day after he left, and by this time, large numbers of other volunteers from different places had arrived. The Mexican army that crossed the Rio Grande, have taken a position on the river, where they are surrounded by a thicket (chapparel) which is composed of a sort of tough bush, which grows about six or eight feet high, and is very thick, and this is surrounded by a kind of prickly shrub, which it is impossible for horses, even, to tread upon without being severely injured.

Mr. Ogden informs us that when he left, Gen. Taylor had provisions for full fifteen days, and that putting his men on short allowance, it would last a month; and then, in case of emergency, the cattle at the camp could be eaten; so that there is no danger of our army being starved out. There are about 2500 troops at the camp, which is finely located, and can be defended to the last. Things would therefore remain the same, until a sufficient reinforcement was collected at Point Isabel, and then, if the Mexicans still remained on this side of the Rio Grande, the American troops would cut through the Mexican army, and open a passage to Gen. Taylor's camp.

Lieut. PERRY, of this town, arrived at Aransas Bay, the day before Mr. Ogden left, and was to leave the next morning, for Point Isabel.

Mr. Ogden says that the climate about the Rio Grande is excellent, and that it was perfectly healthy when he left; and our troops were all well, and in good spirits. He came North to purchase goods, and will return again, as soon as the object of his mission is attained. He is looking remarkably well, and if his own appearance is a criterion whereby to judge of the healthiness of the climate, there certainly can be none better.

There are provisions and ammunition enough at Point Isabel, for almost an indefinite length of time; and the location of the place is such that it can always be reached by vessels. Several United States vessels were lying at anchor there, when Mr. Ogden left.

Yesterday, a cow caught a little girl, on her horns, from the side-walk, in Thames-st., just below our office, and tossed her in the street, and had not the bystanders ran to her rescue, she would, undoubtedly, have been very much injured. As it was, we think she was not very badly hurt, for, she ran off quite briskly, after recovering herself, though she was a good deal frightened. We do not know who the cow belongs to, but she should not be permitted to run at large.

We learn that the bright light which was seen from here, up the river, Saturday night, was caused by the burning of a barn, on Christian Hill, in Providence. We obtained the information from a person who left the city early yesterday morning, and he did not know any of the particulars, or the extent of the fire. The light, as seen from here, was very bright, and the flames distinctly visible. We shall know the particulars this afternoon, when the mail arrives.

Fifty printers, in New Orleans, have quit sticking type, and gone to Point Isabel, to fight for their country's honor. We expect soon to hear of these fellows, snugly seated in the ancient halls of Montezuma, luxuriating on the fruits of a tropical climate. The profession is progressing.

It will be observed, by reference to an advertisement in another column, that the Summer Term of Newport Female Seminary commences on Wednesday next.

In the single county of Mercer, Penna, there are now erecting fourteen new iron furnaces, and one thousand miners are now wanted to mine iron and coal in the valley of the Chenango.

The opposition on the river, says the Albany Knickerbocker, is still carried on with great spirit. Travelling to New York for a quarter of a dollar, is considered high now. The regular passage some days, is only sixpence, and if you grumble at that, they take you for nothing.

By reference to our advertising columns, it will be seen that Messrs. Welch & Mann's splendid Mammoth National Circus will be here the 28th inst. This is one of the best companies in the country, and we advise all those who are fond of such Equestrian performances, to patronize this Circus.

POVERTY OF THE MEXICANS.—It is actually stated in the Mexican Republican, that Mr. Garro, Minister Plenipotentiary from that country to France, is sick, and so very poor that he has not been able to procure sufficient money to pay for medical aid; and it is but a day or two ago since Santa Anna wrote a letter to Tormel, in which he spoke of having afforded pecuniary aid to the usurer, Gen. Parades. There was a time when galleons filled with one hundred millions of dollars were annually transmitted to old Spain, and even yet from thirty to fifty millions per annum are sent to England; but what with indolence and rapacity there is not in the Mexican coffers, at present sufficient money to purchase medicines to relieve an ambassador.

FUNERAL OF MR. TORREY.—The funeral obsequies of Mr. Torrey will be performed to-day in FAYEUIL HALL at 3 P. M., and an Oration delivered on the occasion by Rev. Joseph C. Lovejoy, brother of Elijah P. Lovejoy, who fell a victim to the liberty of the press at Alton, Ill. It is the intention to provide for the Dead a suitable resting place at Mount Auburn and to erect an appropriate monument.

It is said that within the seven years preceding the year 1812, ninety millions of dollars went to Europe from the United States for the article of Iron.

Really beautiful women are seldom vain of their personal appearance. Vanity is the foible of those who are conscious of a deficiency in their charms. A woman of good sense—more valuable far than beauty—is, however, never vain.

The Lexington (Mo.) Telegraph announces the marriage of Mr. Elden Myers, a youth of 19, to Mrs. Mary Nash, the Mother of 25 children. And also, Judge John Bliscoe, formerly of Cooper County, and now a resident of Van Buren, aged 79, to Miss Drake, aged 16.

Major General Scott, it is rumored, has been ordered to take command of the Army on the frontier, and that the President will immediately order out 30,000 of the 50,000 men provided for in the War Bill.

It was supposed that a large proportion of 2000 clerks, in New Orleans, would volunteer, provided their employers would guarantee them their situations, on their return.

One hundred tons bomb shells have been ordered, by the War Department, from Dunham's foundry, New York.

HOUSE TO LET.
 "Strange that a harp of thousand strings Should keep in tune so long."
 THE subscriber has several chambers to let in his house which is beautifully located directly opposite Trinity Church Burying Ground; he will rent the rooms with furniture, or without, as may best suit the tenant. There is, probably, no more desirable spot in Newport, for those whose souls are not entirely steeped in sin, and wrapped up in the slimsy veil of this world's delusion; the occupant may sit at the window, and view the last home of man in all its mysterious and solemn grandeur, and seriously reflect upon the great uncertainty of all things human. Here he can commune with himself, and meditate, in full view of the grave yard, on the final consummation of all things, and anticipate that universal crash, when the earth shall be burned up, and the heavens be rolled together as a scroll. We must reflect upon these things here, and be prepared with our passport when we meet the last Tyler, or we shall receive the fatal mark of the black brush; why, land! what is a few day's sojourn in this miserable world, compared to a high seat in the Celestial Lodge above, where the Knighthood will be gathered in the pure robes of innocence and beauty!

In order to secure the chambers, early application should be made, to

RE-OPENING OF THE UNITED STATES CLOTHING STORE.

A still greater revolution in the sale of Ready Made Clothing. New Store and new Goods, at the old stand, where the public have been favored with so many good bargains. 91 Thames street, one door north of Messrs. W. B. & L. J. Switz's. THE PROPRIETOR of this Establishment has the pleasure of informing the people of Newport and its vicinity, that he has leased the new and commodious store, 91 Thames Street, for the purpose of carrying on the Ready Made Clothing Business, where the public may be assured that they will always find on hand the largest assortment of Clothing and Furnishing Goods in the place, as well as the lowest prices. If I can but induce the people to call upon me, I will give them the most positive proof of the truth of this assertion, as I am determined to secure for the United States Clothing Store a tremendous run of custom, and, aware as I am, that competition is so severe, that the only mode of success is to offer my Goods at a small advance on Cost. Will the people call upon me? I will give them the most positive and pleasing evidence of what I say; still more, I will not urge them with undue persuasion to purchase what they do not want. The custom of forcing goods upon people has become so prevalent that they are surely perplexed to know where they can go and be allowed the use of their own judgment in selection of Goods. Once more I beseech of you to call and examine my stock of Clothing and Furnishing Goods, before purchasing elsewhere, which consists of a large and good assortment of FROCK and DRESS COATS; of a variety of styles and colors; also, a large quantity of Tweed Frock and Sack Coats; 2 or 3 dozen of the Gold Mixed Tweed, a most beautiful article for summer, Kentucky Jeans, and a great variety of other kinds, too numerous to mention.

JACKETS.

Blue Broadcloth Jackets, made expressly for the United States Clothing Store, and warranted as good as custom made; together with Blue, Black, and Mixed Sateen; Black Bombazine, and Green Baize Jackets, of various qualities and prices.

PANTALOONS.

ORRIS Tooth Paste, Orris Tooth Powder, Orris and Chlorine Tooth Wash, at very low prices by May 5-4f 2. R. J. TAYLOR.

The Columbian Magazine, 1846.

Edited by JOHN ISMAY and ROBERT A. WEST. ENTERING upon the fifth volume of the Columbian Magazine, we find ourselves somewhat perplexed as to the right execution of our task. We have much to say of the past, but it might seem egotistical to say it; and we have much to say of the future, but we fear lest we should appear unduly to boast. On the other hand, something at this season must be said, lest we should appear ungrateful for the steadily increasing patronage bestowed upon us. Is not ours a pleasant predicament? On one hand stands the spirit of our provincial modesty, and the moment we begin to speak of what we have done and shall do, it lays its shadowy finger upon its glossy lips, and with other mysterious gestures throws us into silence; on the other hand the cheerful public—the embodiment and imperfection of several thousands of subscribers and readers—demands that we pay tribute to their liberal patronage; that we recall the pleasures they have been wont to enjoy for now two years in our pages, and that we declare our plans for the future. We have, of course, no choice left but to exercise the ghost of our native bashfulness. 'Tis done;—and now we will talk freely with our "dear public," of ourselves and our intentions.

How rapidly, and notwithstanding difficulties to be surmounted, how pleasantly has time sped since we tried the experiment of a new magazine in this great "emporium of commerce." Two years only have elapsed, and yet our enterprise has been crowned with success, and the pages of the Columbian Magazine periodically gladden and instruct the hearts of the matchless fair ones of our own proud city and state, throwing the light of its pleasant tales and ever virtuous sentiments over many thousand family circles, fostering purest affections and teaching lessons that well might fall from mother's lips into maiden's listening ears. Already has our magazine numerous readers in every State of the Union. The shrewd and observant New Englander greets it with a hearty welcome; on summer's eve beneath shady trees, or on winter's night around the glowing hearth, many a youthful "sion of a worthy sire reads aloud from its pages, while beautiful and virtuous daughters ply the willing needle, and aged sire and dame exchange approving and delighted glances. Far away in the thickly peopled West do we find in upholding and perpetuating the refining influence of literature and art, and soothe the asperities of arduous toil and isolated life; and the sunny South greets us monthly with a frank and generous welcome. Yes, brief though our existence has been, it has neither been profitless nor joyless. We have sought to supply Americans with a magazine worthy of America; and the universal hail of welcome that has greeted us has far exceeded our expectations, while it has increased our conviction that a magazine such as we have been able to furnish, was needed for the many thousands of American readers.

We enter upon our third year with bright and cheering prospects. Every where has the press spoken in terms of high commendation, not alone of the literary contents of the Columbian, but of its unsurpassed embellishments, and never with warmer praise than during the last six months. This, with our increased circulation, we take as an acknowledgment that we have fulfilled the promises we renewed six months ago. We need not again renew them. Be it ours to do and not to boast. To those who have patronized us so far, we offer grateful thanks. We have no doubt that we shall continue to secure their approval and their good wishes. To those who, now that the new postage law is in full operation, and a new year is commencing, will doubtless swell the list of our patrons, we say that we have contracted for, and have in progress some of the richest and rarest embellishments, for the new volume, that have ever been produced in this country—embellishments designed as well as engraved EXPRESSLY FOR THE WORK; and that we have entered into treaty with many of the first American authors regularly to aid us by their literary labors. These arrangements have of course entailed upon us great expense, but we intend that the Columbian shall be the first—in every respect the best—of American magazines. Let there be no misapprehension on this point, and let our friends give us the return of a still larger patronage, for we will deserve it.

As to the past or future discharge of our editorial duties it behoves us to say little. We shall indeed but express our obligations to our numerous correspondents, and request a continuance of their favors, assuring them that they shall ever have the most courteous attention at our hands.

We have but to add that the publisher enters upon a new volume, therefore, with expectations of increased patronage. He has every reason for indulging such expectations. Increased exertions will be made to deserve it in each department of the work.

Speaking of correspondents, we refer with pride to the annexed list of those who have hitherto aided us, embodying, as it does, names that are an honor to our country's literature—those who have attained to the highest fame and others who are steadily and rapidly pressing to the same goal.
